

CHERYL HYATT BUSH and PETER ROYCE SMITH

Saturday, June 24, 2006

Two o'clock p.m.

RIVERMONT AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

*They met in the airport on St. Patrick's Day.
Their seats were assigned in just such a way
They made conversation and played peek-a-boo.
When traveling with children, that's just what you do.*

*Upon their arrival, they soon came to find
Their luggage had somehow been left behind.
While waiting to see if it soon would appear
Conversation continued, turning mishap to cheer.*

*The next day her luggage arrived with a note,
"If you'd like to get together, please email" he wrote.
And so three days later they met once again
Over coffee to discover the beauty of friends.*

*This friendship grew stronger with each passing day
God's hand was upon them, and what a display!
His faithfulness evident for all to behold,
Bringing healing and joy in both hearts to unfold.*

*Four years have gone by and the time has now come
Their love has compelled them, two lives shared as one.
The gift of your presence is requested that day
If not there in person, in spirit, they pray.*

*Reception immediately following at the church
